2 Introduction

The purpose of this report is provide deep understanding of the tricks or techniques involved in cleaning, organizing, and set up of rooms by campus guys when hosting a female visitor with an ultimate goal of getting lucky. By observing friends rooms recently, this report describes the techniques used and the success levels. Furthermore the report evaluates effects of future improvements on these techniques to the females in existence and the development of better techniques. Movie technique, candle lit room, alcoholic drink technique, room spraying, new pair of bed sheets and staying shirtless are the techniques used.

3 Techniques Used to get Lucky

3.1 movie Technique

By far the most commonly used technique, it doesnt require any skill set to execute but a good choice of a number provides an anonymous advantage. Most guys choose horrors and this leads to cuddling while the classy guys pick romance. This technique guarantees high success levels.

3.2 Candle Lit Room

A dim room, candles placed perfectly at well planned positions sets an awesome tone. With this technique it is certain getting lucky is obvious provided nature doesnt betray the guy. With future improvements this technique may guarantee a high success rate depending on timing.

3.3 Alcoholic Drink technique

Johnnie Walker once said, A man losses his mind after two kisses, a woman two sips of alcohol. This technique basically sets a kind of mood thats almost certainly irresistible and has very high success levels.

3.4 Others.

Other techniques that exist but not commonly used are; room spraying, laying the bed with a new pair of sheets and staying shirtless. These techniques are used by guys who stay in University Halls.

4 Conclusion

This report identifies three major techniques; movie, candle lit room, alcoholic drink, used by campus guys to get lucky. It also describes the not very common techniques. These techniques will continue to be used and we should expect improvements to increase their success rates.
